

Leading education
and social research
Institute of Education
University of London

International Centre for Historical Research in Education (ICHRE)

ICHRE

Founded in 2014, ICHRE aims to become a leading centre for research, scholarship and teaching in the history of education. It builds on traditions of historical research at the Institute of Education, which is widely recognised as the leading UK base for history of education and one of the most significant centres worldwide.

<http://ichre.ioe.ac.uk>

ioe.ac.uk

'Only by carefully studying the past can we come to anticipate the future and to understand the present'
Émile Durkheim

Director

Professor Gary McCulloch

Executive committee

Sarah Aitchison

Dr Georgina Brewis

Dr Vincent Carpentier

Dr Steven Cowan

Professor Stuart Foster

Dr Mark Freeman

Alice Kirke

Dr Tom Woodin

We welcome enquiries from potential partners, visiting academics and students.

Contact

Email: ichre@ioe.ac.uk

Web: <http://ichre.ioe.ac.uk>

International Centre for Historical Research in Education

ICHRE offers an innovative range of activities relating to the history of education including

- Ground-breaking research projects which have been funded by research councils and third sector organisations
- World-class teaching through research degrees, MA and BA study
- An exciting programme of events, regular seminars as well as conferences, training workshops and symposia.
- Partnerships with other networks and organisations such as the Newsam Library and Archives, the Centre for Holocaust Education, History of Education Society (UK) and the International Standing Conference for the History of Education (ISCHE).